

Testimonials

Television that works

"It was really nice for me to get a turnkey job. Working with The Employment and Career Channel was instrumental in building a good video. And I appreciate your unique way of production, which is going to allow us to update the video easily as we expand and change our operation."

-Jay Whitehead

President and Publisher, Outsourcing Today LLC Publisher of HRO Today Magazine

"I can't say enough about your high level of professionalism. Your producer's degree of responsiveness is higher than anyone I've ever worked with. The quality of work has been second to none and your input is excellent."

"You painted a beautiful portrait of University of Medicine & Dentistry of New Jersey and our thriving, medical school. We are grateful for your talent, creative genius and hard work."

-Mercedes M. Lettman

Director of Admissions, University of Medicine & Dentistry of New Jersey

"After our first meeting I felt totally comfortable in partnering with you on our project. I thought 'These people are on the ball and are going to take care of it.' And that doesn't happen very often. I really need people I can trust to do the best job."

-Deborah Esayian

VP Integrated Sales, Emmis Communications

Filling our technical positions is not an easy task. We have worked with your site for the past 10 months searching for candidates for our various technical openings with much success. We have been quite impressed by the quality of the candidates you have on your site.

CSP Information Technology Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

"The Employment and Career Channel partnered with us closely and quickly to create our recruitment advertising strategy and 'look' from a start-up position. The result was a brand identity with 'punch' that yielded great candidates with reduced time-to-admissions and cost-per-lead. The Employment and Career Channel made this look easy-but in truth, they have put forth a high degree of integrity and effort in the creative work performed and in recommending cost-saving strategies. In my 10 years of admissions management, The Employment and Career Channel's professionalism and service-orientation far exceed their competitors."
